(a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary,

(1) A municipal court possesses jurisdiction in, and over, cases:

(A) For violation of the laws and ordinances of the municipality; or

(B) Arising under the laws and ordinances of the municipality; and

(2) A municipal court also possesses jurisdiction to enforce any municipal law or ordinance that mirrors, substantially duplicates or

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, in addition to jurisdiction authorized pursuant to subsections (a) or (b) above, a municipal court may also exercise concurrent jurisdiction with the court of general sessions if, and only if:

(1) The municipal court possessed and exercised such concurrent general sessions jurisdiction continuously on and before May 11, 2003; or

(2) After May 12, 2003, concurrent general sessions jurisdiction is duly conferred upon the municipal court in accordance with the procedures and requirements set forth in § 16-18-310.

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, a municipal court may exercise no jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction authorized by the provisions of this section; provided, however, the provisions of this section shall not be construed to impair, or in any way restrict, the authority of a juvenile judge to waive jurisdiction over any cases or class of cases of alleged traffic violations, as authorized pursuant to the provisions of § 37-1-146, or the authority of a municipal court to receive and dispose of such cases or classes of cases of alleged traffic violations.

§ 16-18-302. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, every popularly elected or appointed judge of a municipal court is authorized to administer oaths.

The administrative office of the courts shall allocate fifty percent (50%) of such funds exclusively for the purpose of providing training and continuing education for municipal court clerks. The administrative office of the courts is authorized to contract with qualified persons, entities, or organizations in order to provide required training or continuing education for municipal court judges. (b) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, to the extent that a municipal court is exercising its duly conferred, concurrent general sessions court jurisdiction in a given case, the provisions of this section do not apply and costs in such case shall be assessed, collected and distributed in the same manner as such costs are assessed, collected and distributed in the court of general sessions.

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of § 67-4-602, or any other law to the contrary, there is levied a state privilege tax on litigation of thirteen dollars and seventy-five cents ($13.75) in all cases in a municipal court. All taxes levied pursuant to this subsection shall be collected in accordance with the provisions of § 67-4-603 and shall be paid into the state treasury and allocated in accordance with the provisions of § 67-4-606.

(b) There is also levied a state privilege tax on litigation of one dollar ($1.00) for each and every violation of any municipal law or ordinance governing use of public parking space; and such tax is due and shall be collected even if the offender does not appear before the court. Notwithstanding any provision of this section or any other law to the contrary, the only litigation privilege tax collected for a violation of any municipal law or ordinance governing use of public parking space shall be the one dollar ($1.00) litigation tax levied by the preceding sentence. Notwithstanding the apportionment provisions of § 67-4-606, or any other law to the contrary, all revenue derived from such privilege tax shall be forwarded by the clerk to the state treasurer and shall be deposited into the civil legal representation of indigents fund authorized and created under § 16-3-808.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of § 67-4-602, or any other law to the contrary, no other state privilege tax on litigation shall be levied or collected with respect to litigation in a municipal court; provided, however, the provisions of this section shall not be construed to repeal existing authority for the levy of a municipal litigation tax, nor shall this section be construed to grant new authority for the levy of a municipal litigation tax.

(d) Any state privilege tax imposed pursuant to this section which the clerk of the court fails to collect and pay over to the department of revenue shall be a debt of the clerk. Any clerk of the court failing or refusing to collect and pay over to the department state litigation taxes imposed pursuant to this section shall be liable therefor and the clerk's official bondsman shall also be liable therefor, and the commissioner or the commissioner's delegate may collect the amount of the tax from the clerk or the clerk's official bondsman pursuant to title 67, chapter 1, part 14.

(e) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, to the extent that a municipal court is exercising its duly conferred concurrent general sessions jurisdiction in a given case, the provisions of this section do not apply and litigation taxes in such case shall be levied and collected in the same manner as such taxes are levied and collected in the general sessions court.

§ 16-18-305. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, contempt of a municipal court shall be punishable by fine in the amount of fifty dollars ($50.00), or such lesser amount as may be imposed in the judge's discretion.

§ 16-18-306. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any person dissatisfied with the judgment of a municipal court, in any case or cases heard and determined by the court acting pursuant to § 16-18-301(a), may, within ten (10) days thereafter, Sundays exclusive, appeal to the circuit court of the county, upon giving bond in the amount of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for such person's appearance and the faithful prosecution of the appeal. As used in this section, person includes, but is not limited to, a natural person, corporation, business entity or the municipality.

§ 16-18-307. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, a judge of a municipal court may not concurrently hold any other office or employment with the municipality. The provisions of this section do not apply to any municipal official or employee who, on the effective date of this act, concurrently holds office as judge of the municipal court; provided, however, if such official or employee either discontinues service as a municipal official or employee or discontinues service as judge of the municipal court, then the exemption granted by this sentence no longer applies.

(a) Each calendar year, the judge of each municipal court must attend at least three (3) hours of training or continuing education courses provided by, through or with approval of the administrative office of the courts and must certify such attendance to the administrative director. If a municipal court judge fails to timely comply with such requirements, then the judge shall be extended a six (6) month grace period in order to achieve compliance; provided, however, training obtained to satisfy requirements for the preceding calendar year shall not also be used to satisfy requirements for the current calendar year. The failure of the judge to achieve compliance prior to conclusion of the six (6) month grace period shall render all subsequent judgments of the judge null and void, and of no effect, until such time as the requirements are met. Such training and continuing education courses may be offered by the administrative office of the courts in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Tennessee municipal judges conference, held in accordance with the provisions of § 17-3-301(c).

Each municipal judge shall be compensated and reimbursed for attending required training or continuing education in accordance with the travel policy of the municipality.

(b) Each calendar year, the clerk of each municipal court must attend at least three (3) hours of training or continuing education courses provided by, through or with approval of the administrative office of the courts and must certify such attendance to the administrative director; provided, however, such attendance requirements do not apply to any municipal clerk who is required to be certified pursuant to § 6-54-120.

Each municipal court clerk shall be compensated and reimbursed for attending required training and continuing education in accordance with the travel policy of the municipality.

(a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, at all times there shall be a person elected, appointed or otherwise designated to serve as clerk of the municipal court. Immediately upon each such election, appointment or designation, the chief administrative officer of the municipality shall promptly certify the results of such election, appointment or designation to the administrative office of the courts and shall supply such additional information, concerning the clerk, as shall be required by the administrative director.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the clerk of the municipal court shall maintain an accurate and detailed record and summary report of all financial transactions and affairs of the court. The record and report shall accurately reflect all disposed cases, assessments, collections, suspensions, waivers and transmittals of litigation taxes, court costs, forfeitures, fines, fees and any other receipts and disbursements. An audit of the financial records and transactions of the municipal court shall be made each year as part of any audit performed pursuant to § 6-56-101 or § 6-56-105.

(a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, on or after May 12, 2003, concurrent general sessions jurisdiction shall be newly conferred upon an existing or newly created municipal court only in compliance with the procedures and requirements set forth in this section.

(1) A majority of the total membership of the municipal legislative body must vote in favor of seeking concurrent general sessions jurisdiction for an existing or newly created municipal court.

(2) The municipal legislative body must notify, by petition, the county legislative body of the municipality's intention to seek concurrent general sessions jurisdiction for the municipal court.

(3) The petition must contain the following:

(A) A plan for an adequate and secure courtroom;

(B) Agreement to comply with state mandated technical computer support comparable with the Tennessee court information system (TnCIS) program specifications and requirements.

(C) Agreement to comply with state laws governing general sessions court litigation taxes, costs, fees and assessments and to legally remit such items to the state department of revenue or to the county government, if appropriate.

(D) Agreement to comply with state laws subjecting the financial transactions of the court to annual public audits.

(4) The municipal legislative body and the county legislative body must appoint a feasibility study committee. The membership of the committee shall consist of the county mayor, the municipal mayor, one (1) member of the municipal legislative body, one (1) member of the county legislative body, the district attorney general who serves the county, and the district public defender who serves the county. The membership of the committee shall also consist of three (3) members appointed by the municipal legislative body from the following list: the chief of police, the city recorder/clerk, the city judge, the city attorney, and one (1) citizen member. The membership of the committee shall also consist of three (3) members appointed by the county legislative body from the following list: the sheriff who serves the county, a general sessions judge who serves the county, the general sessions court clerk, the county attorney, and one (1) citizen member.

(5) The feasibility study committee shall determine whether the county requires an additional court to exercise general sessions jurisdiction. In making such determination, the committee shall consider and evaluate the following factors:

(A) The economic, administrative and personnel impact of the proposal upon the existing general sessions court;

(B) The impact of the proposal upon existing judicial services and law enforcement resources;

(C) The extent, if any, to which the proposed plan is necessary to promote and ensure the efficient administration of justice in relation to county and municipal populations, county population density, geographic logistics and distances, caseloads, number of judges, and the current caseload burden on the existing system;

(D) The plan's provision of adequate secure and comparable courtroom facilities for the hearing of cases in that location;

(E) The extent, if any, to which the proposed plan would unduly burden the existing staffs of the district attorney general or district public defender and the extent, if any, to which the plan proposes adequate funding for additional staff requirements;

(F) The extent, if any, to which the proposed plan would provide for compliance with state mandated technical computer support.

(6) By majority vote of its total membership, the feasibility study committee must agree upon written findings and recommendations and must submit such findings and recommendations to the municipal legislative body and to the county legislative body. The findings and recommendations must include one of the following alternatives:

(A) There is a clearly demonstrated need for new general sessions court in the county, and such court would best be administered by the county;

(B) There is a clearly demonstrated need for a new general sessions court in the county, and such court would best be administered by the municipality, either as a new or existing municipal court with concurrent general sessions jurisdiction; or

(C) There is no clearly demonstrated need, at this time, for any of the alternatives set forth in subdivisions (6)(A) and (6)(B).

(7) If the feasibility study committee determines that there is no clearly demonstrated need for any of the alternatives set forth in subdivisions (6)(A) and (6)(B), then for one year thereafter neither the county nor the municipality may pursue further implementation of any of the alternatives set forth in subdivisions (6)(A) or (6)(B). After passage of one year, if the majority of the total membership of the municipal legislative body again votes in favor of seeking concurrent general sessions jurisdiction for an existing or newly created municipal court, then a petition must again be submitted to the county legislative body and the procedures set forth in this section must again be followed.

(8) If the feasibility study committee recommends any one of the findings set forth in subdivisions (6)(A) or (6)(B), and if the county wishes to pursue creation of a new general sessions court in the county or if the municipality wishes to pursue extension of concurrent general sessions jurisdiction to a newly created or existing municipal court, then the county or municipality, as appropriate, shall:

(A) Submit the written findings and recommendations of the feasibility study committee to the judiciary committee of the senate, the judiciary committee of the house of representatives and the judicial council;

(B) Cause legislation to be timely prepared and submitted for review and evaluation by the judicial council in accordance with procedures set forth in § 16-21-107(a)(3), for a judicial district seeking creation of a state trial court; and

(C) Cause legislation to be timely introduced for consideration by the general assembly.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any legislation, proposed to create a new general sessions court or to create a new municipal court with concurrent general sessions jurisdiction or to confer concurrent general sessions jurisdiction on an existing municipal court, must be approved by a majority of the total membership of the judiciary committee of the senate prior to passage by the senate and must be approved by a majority of the total membership of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives prior to passage by the house of representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, if a municipality is located in two (2) or more counties of this state, then, as used in this section, "county" means the county of this state containing the largest geographical portion of the municipality.
